Sebastiani
 "Painted for the Convent of St. Augustin, in Seville. It was sold by the monks to the Prince of the Peace, who presented it to General Sebastiani. In 1814 it was sent to Buchanan for sale, and was purchased by Mr. Baring, an ancestor of Lord Ashburton. According to the Sebastiani Catalogue, the sale of this work by the monks was the occasion of a popular outbreak. In order to effect the removal of the canvas from the convent, it became necessary to employ force, and the suppressing of the riot cost the lives of three persons."—*J. B.
